

All Aboard: Approaches to Making Language Learning and Teaching More Inclusive

5 online seminars,
early May 2026

3 ECTS-Points

One week at University of Duisburg-Essen,
Essen, Germany,
May 2026

Travel costs financially supported by Erasmus+

More information:

Olomouc: markus.obrink@upol.cz

Iceland: branislav.bedi@arnastofnun.is

Essen-Duisburg: sprachkurse@uni-due.de

Helsinki: roy.siddall@helsinki.fi

All Aboard: Approaches to Making Language Learning and Teaching More Inclusive

In this BIP (Blended Intensive Programme), we will explore how physical, linguistic, professional, and cultural diversity can be used to develop cognitive, metacognitive, and socio-affective didactic strategies, such as empathy, trust, and respect.

Our goal:

➔ To transform this multifaceted plurality into a classroom where everyone can learn under the best possible conditions.

We will reflect on and test inclusive approaches such as:

- Intercultural skills
- Multilingualism and translanguaging
- AI in education

These reflections aim to promote the participation and learning success of all students.

This event will bring together academics, teachers, and students through teaching units, practice-oriented workshops, and experiences.

More information:

Olomouc: markus.obrink@upol.cz
Iceland: branislav.bedi@arnastofnun.is

Essen-Duisburg: sprachkurse@uni-due.de
Helsinki: roy.siddall@helsinki.fi

Topics covered online include

Inclusion and group dynamics

Socio-linguistic and cultural diversity and inclusion

Multilingualism, interculturality and inclusion in language teaching.

Challenges in language learning at university

Students with disabilities and language learning challenges

More information:

Olomouc: markus.obrink@upol.cz

Iceland: branislav.bedi@arnastofnun.is