Spark Social

Aurora course on social innovation Spring 2026 6 ECTS

Do you want to discover your own potential, strengthen your network and become more competent in utilising your knowledge and ideas to benefit society? Do you want to work with a diverse group of students seeking creative solutions to the challenges we face today, such as climate change and increased well-being for all?

The University of Iceland offers an Erasmus+ Blended Intensive Programme (BIP), for all students at Aurora universities in late-stage bachelor or at the master's level. The course combines online sessions with a 5-day capstone experience at the University of Iceland.

Participants will gain increased knowledge of today's challenges while working towards joint solutions across disciplines in collaboration with leading supervisors from academia and industry.

January – April 2026: Five virtual sessions
11 – 15 May 2026: On-site session in Reykjavík

Students must be nominated by their home university to apply for the course. Contact your local Aurora office for further information on the application process.
